

A POULTRY OWNER'S MISTAKE

Little chicks are allowed to die, eggs get scarce, the chickens make dry eating, etc. These mistakes are constantly made, but need not occur.

PRATT'S POULTRY FOOD

will increase the quantity of eggs and make hens lay regularly. It cures chicken cholera, roup, gapes, worms, rheumatism and all diseases.

No poultry raiser should do without Pratt's Poultry Food.

What it does for chickens it does for all kinds of poultry. The oldest and most reliable in existence. Call for a package and try it.

HONOR TO CAPTAINS

ROOSEVELT'S VIEWS ON THE SCHLEY CASE

Conference With Henderson to Prevent Action by Congress—Won't Review Past History And Acts.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The Post will say tomorrow: The Schley case was also under discussion at the White House conference, the President being anxious that his disposition of the case should not be followed by action in Congress. Speaker Henderson was able to assure the President that action could be blocked in the House, but it was pointed out to him by the Senators that the situation in the Senate was different, the more liberal rules of that body allowing any resolution to be considered if it commanded a majority vote.

The President's views regarding the Schley case became generally known last night as the result of the conference. It is said that he will not undertake to discuss in his review any of the events which occurred prior to the battle of Santiago, on the ground that if Schley's conduct was reprehensible it was condoned by the Navy Department and by President McKinley when Schley's promotion was recommended. As for the battle of Santiago, the President is inclined to the opinion, according to his visitors, that the victory was won by all the captains and that credit cannot therefore be given exclusively to Schley, although the latter acted courageously, and with the Oregon, succeeded in preventing the escape of the Colon.

CREW TOOK TO BOATS

Seattle, Feb. 16.—The steamship Nome City arrived this morning from San Francisco with Captain L. Johnson and five members of the crew of the schooner Laura Pike, who were picked up at sea in a small boat thirty miles off Trinidad Friday morning. They left the schooner wallowing around in the stormy seas, fast sinking from leaks which had been caused probably by the rough weather.

The Laura Pike left San Francisco January 26, light, en route to Eureka for lumber. The weather was rather rough at the time of the water, had a rough time of it. The ocean swells, crossed by strong southeasterly winds, broke into foam created waves, and the wet weather and spray made the situation all the more disagreeable.

After reaching the vicinity of Eureka Captain Johnson tried to cross the bar, but adverse winds rendered it impossible. Head winds drove the schooner back into the ocean, and for several days she wallowed around, almost helpless.

Early Thursday morning it was discovered that the schooner was leaking, and instead of getting better the leaks became worse. The crew made futile attempts to stop the impouring water, but the flood gained on the men, and thirty-six hours later, on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, they took to the small boats and reached the Nome City, which had been attracted by the sounds of distress flying from the sinking vessel.

PROTECTION OF PRESIDENT.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Senator Hoar from the Committee on Judiciary has favorably reported a bill for the protection of the President of the United States, the Vice President and others. It provides that any person who shall, within the limits of the United States or any place subject to its jurisdiction, willfully kill or cause the death of the President, Vice President or any officials in line of succession, or who shall willfully cause the death of the sovereign or chief magistrate of any foreign country, shall be punished with death. An attempt to commit either of the offenses mentioned is also to be punished by death.

The bill also provides a punishment of twenty years for the person or persons found guilty of instigating, advising or counseling the killing of any of the persons named, and any person who shall willfully and knowingly aid in the escape of any person guilty of the offenses mentioned shall be deemed an accomplice and punished the same as if a principal.

Imprisonment of five years is provided for persons convicted of uttering words, spoken or published, which threaten to kill or advise or instigate another to kill the persons named.

"DAVE" O'LEARY TALKS.

Town Talk tells the following story on two newspaper boys well known in Hawaii:

Ralph Strong, who died last week in Los Angeles from the effects of an operation on his ear, at one time worked the now defunct Daily Report in this city. At one time he worked in Southern California. He was a clever youth and fond of a joke. One he told had himself, Governor Gage and Dion O'Leary, who married Alice Rix, as the principals. Strong had to see Gage in Los Angeles for his paper, and as he explained that his hearing was poor the Governor raised his voice in speaking to him. Not long after this he was to San Francisco, and Gage mistaking him for Strong, conversed with him in tones audible several feet away from his carriage. O'Leary stood it for awhile and then the Governor's reason for using such attention tones dawned upon him. Mastering his natural hesitation of speech by a supreme effort, he said, "Beg pardon, G-g-governor. You have made a mistake. I'm not the fellow who can't hear. I'm the one that can't talk."

It having come to the knowledge of this department that it is the intention of certain persons to carry the lantern scale (Orthosis Insignia) now prevalent in certain districts of the Island of Maui, to the other districts on that island, and also to other islands of the group where lanterns are growing, it is earnestly requested that all persons will co-operate with this department in its efforts to spread the scale, until it has been finally determined that it is not detrimental to other vegetation. The Government Entomologist, who is about to leave for Mexico to find beneficial enemies for the destruction of lanterns, and strongly advises the above request, is of the opinion that the lantern scale is dangerous to other vegetation.
